Postal votes: Postal votes were in the 1994 parliamentary election treated separately. Postal voting results are reported at national level.

Central Government Inspectorate: Until 1 October 1994 a limited number of inhabitants were registered by the Central Government Inspectorate of population registers (CPR). This central population register included persons without fixed abodes but belonging to the 'de jure' population. Since 29 September 1994 these persons are recorded in the population register of the municipality of Hague. Only the number of eligible voters are reported for the unit of CPR.

NUTS structure and electoral units: The Netherlands remains undivided for national and EP elections. For statistical purposes, the country is divided into 40 NUTS 3 units. Slight changes with respect to the municipality structure have occurred (see details below) which ought to be taken into consideration if results are analyzed at this level.

Regarding municipality changes: An overview of the link between gemeente and coropgebieden (which equals the NUTS 3 units) from 1996 and onwards is provided in the StatLine data base of Statistics Netherlands. 16 more municipalities existed in the 1994 EP election. Below is a list over these municipalities and the coropgebieden (NUTS 3) region to which they belong (municipality number - municipality name - coropgebieden/NUTS 3 belonging)
